Coming Off Psych Drugs: A Meeting of the Minds

In June of 2012, twenty-three people came together to discuss the subject of coming off psychiatric drugs.

“We were psychiatric survivors, therapists, mental health consumers, family members, and activists, united by a passion for truth-telling.

“More than half of us had successfully come off psych drugs, including cocktails of antipsychotics and mood stabilizers.”

Please join us in our own meeting of the minds, to watch and continue this discussion, with an opportunity to share our own experiences on, off, and coming off of psych drugs.
